→ I am by no means an expert with this software. I use Lynda.com video tutorials for the kids. To teach myself, I read or watch video tutorials and try things out! In yearbook, I don't really teach how to use the software (since this is my first year in yearbook), I let my veteran yearbook students teach the others and me!! There are a ton of other choices for software on our computers. I just haven't had the time to use/learn them all. So, I've chosen to stick to what the kids need to know to test out of their high school class.
